

Whether in natural resource or appellate law, Andy answers questions about the law to solve client's legal issues. His ability to research and understand matters in depth is key to helping his clients understand complex problems and their solutions.

His extensive experience analyzing natural resource issues throughout Alaska and the western U.S. provides a foundation his clients know they can rely on. Andy focuses his practice on Alaska Native law, litigation, municipal law, bankruptcy, natural resource law, and appellate law.

Before moving to Alaska to clerk for the Alaska Supreme Court, Andy worked as a policy fellow in the U.S. Senate, focusing on natural resource issues. He is a 2007 Harry S. Truman Scholar from Montana.

LEGAL EXPERIENCE

Landye Bennett Blumstein LLP. Partner, January 2024 – Present; Associate, December 2016 – December 2023

Peak 2 Law. Consultant and Attorney, December 2015 – November 2016

Defenders of Wildlife. Alaska Representative, September 2014 – November 2015

Supreme Court of the State of Alaska. Law Clerk for The Honorable Daniel Winfree, September 2013 – August 2014

Office of U.S. Senator Max Baucus. Miles Conservation Fellow, 2010

EDUCATION

Lewis & Clark Law School, Portland, Oregon (J.D. 2013)

University of Oxford, Oxford, England (M.Sc. 2009)

University of Montana, Missoula, Montana (B.A. 2008)

STATE BAR AND COURT ADMISSIONS

Member of the bar of the State of Alaska, the State of Montana, the United States District Court, District of Alaska, the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit.