

CASEY K. GILMORE

Casey joined the firm in 2021 after serving as a law clerk to The Honorable Judge Peter Ramgren, of the Alaska Superior Court in Anchorage. In addition to her general litigation matters at the court, Casey has experience in municipal matters, commercial real estate transactions, tort defense litigation, trust and estates litigation, utilities regulation, and 501(c)(3) formation matters.

Before earning her Juris Doctor and Master of Business Administration, Casey worked at an Alaska public policy research and consulting firm where she assisted with the day-to-day administration of a multimillion-dollar federal grant. During her time in graduate school, Casey worked with a local county to create an emergency management plan, improving the county's responsiveness to natural and human-made disasters. Casey spent summers interning at a utility regulation practice and regularly assisted with litigation matters in the Alaska State Courts as well as matters in front of the D.C. Circuit Court of Appeals and Federal Energy Regulatory Commission. Casey also volunteered with the ACLU of Oregon reviewing proposed legislation for civil liberty infringements.
